

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to
air an anti-Kerry
"documentary" days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the
public airwaves free
of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest.

Sinclair is abusing
control of their stations to force a
political point of view while attempting to
portray their agenda
as "news" in an attempt to skirt
equal time
provisions.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license
renewal process
needs to involve
more than a returned
postcard.

Thank you.
